Specialized Testing Services from a Unique Environmental Company

Accurate Labs offers all required testing for water and wastewater systems, plus thousands more analyses. But what really sets them apart from other labs is their specialized testing capabilities and the capacity to process high numbers of samples while maintaining quick turnaround and thorough quality control. Below are just a few examples of the specialized testing services that Accurate Labs provides:

Unregulated Contaminant Monitoring Rule 4 (UCMR4):

Accurate Labs is one of 14 labs in the nation that is EPA certified for all analyses required for the EPA's 4th UCMR program.

Synthetic Organic Compounds (SOC):

Accurate is certified for the testing required by the EPA's Chemical Phase II/V Program, which includes SOCs commonly found in pesticides, herbicides and fuel additives.

PerFluoroAlkyl Substances (PFAS):

PerFluoroAlkyl Substances are often used in firefighting foam, stain-resistant clothing, cookware and food containers, and have been found to contaminate groundwater when not disposed of properly. PFAS are included in the UCMR program.

Legionella:

Legionella is a bacteria typically found in cooling tower systems and can be contracted by people inhaling aerosol droplets produced by the towers. The Legionella testing procedure (Legiolert) used by Accurate Labs is more accurate and precise than most other methods in use today.
